Biographical information

Raffaele Parrozzani was born in 1980 in Montebelluna, Treviso, Italy. He graduated in Medicine and Surgery (2005) and performed his residency in Ophthalmology from 2006 to 2010 at the University of Padua. In 2010 he became Fellow of The European Board of Ophthalmology. In 2013 he obtained a PhD in Oncology and Surgical Oncology. In 2018 he obtained the National Abilitation for Associate Professor in Ophthalmology. He is an active member of: International Society of Ocular Oncology (ISOO), European Ophthalmic Oncology Group (OOG), Association for Research in Vision and Ophthalmology (ARVO), European Association for Vision and Eye Research (EVER), Società Oftalmologica Italiana (SOI) e Società Italiana della Retina (SIR). From 2010 to 2016 his research in ocular oncology was also conducted for the G.B. Bietti Foundation (Ocular Oncology and Toxicology Research Unit). He is currently working at the Department of Neuroscience-Ophthalmology of the University of Padua. He is assistant professor in the Ophthalmology Residency Program and the Orthoptic School of the University of Padua. His primary fields of interest include basic and clinical research in ocular and orbital oncology and medical retina.
